HIGH SUBSIDIES CALLED ABSURD BY DR. H. LOVE

Dr. Harry M. Love, member of the faculty of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, said the free interplay of demand and supply is "the best way" to operate the American economy, in a talk before more than 300 farmers and their wives at the annual raspberry and cherry growers banquet at the C. H. Musselman Co. cafeteria, Biglerville, Friday night.

While pointing out that the use of high subsidies "would lead to absurd results because if you support one you should support all of the 8,000,000 separate items made in this country," Dr. Love said that "insurance is an old American custom, and our economy in a sense is like a trapeze artist. A trapeze artist uses a net as insurance so that, if she falls, she won't be killed.

"We need some kind of a net under our economy so that, if it does fall, we won't all be killed. Subsidies can act as that sort of a net. The question, however, is 'how high should the net be?' If we put it too high it interferes with the capitalist and the economy gets into difficulties. If it is too low and the economy falls, the net again will do little good. I asked a group once just where the net should be, and one man said the net should be so manipulated that the trapeze artist should just touch the ground a little, so she wouldn't get careless.

Costs $800,000 Daily

Subsidy payments affect the regular way of supply and demand and leads to surpluses which have serious effects on the markets for farmers' products, Dr. Love said. "In a free market the consumer decides what he wants to buy. He makes a choice. And the producer moves to meet the needs shown by the consumer, to give him what he wants. But if you peg prices through subsidies then the producer keeps on producing despite the fact that the consumer doesn't want any. The result is absurdities. Today the United States government is spending $800,000 each and every day of the week for storage space to hold the produce the government has had to buy to keep prices

PAUL PENSINGER PHOTOGRAPH IS "PRINT OF YEAR"

"Silent Watch," a photograph from the top of Little Round Top with General Warren's statue in silhouette, by Paul G. Pensinger, was selected as the "Print of the Year" of the Gettysburg Photographic Society, by Mark A. Bitterman, past president of the Harrisburg Camera Club, at the annual Ladies' Night dinner meeting of the Society at Bankert's restaurant Friday night.

Dave Garfinkle's photograph of "Twin Tanks" showing two circular stairs surrounding the tanks was selected as the second best print. Joseph D. Kendlehart's photograph of a "Crocus" was chosen as the third best print.

Prints by Robert Ditchburn, Maurice Stoops, Edward Stine, Paul Pensinger and Philip Tyson were given honorable mention.

Many Prints Submitted
More than fifty photographs had been selected by the local society for entry in the annual contest.

Prior to selecting the "prints" of the year, Bitterman showed a number of his own photographs and told of the formulas, solutions, shadings or highlightings used in producing each photograph.

His photographs, he explained, were made and selected from six themes, people and portraits, scenes, animals, hands at work, still life and children. He showed several photographs which he "criticized" for "failures." All of the prints were made by himself.

Pensinger's winning print was made at sunset and shows a heavy haze hanging over "The Valley of Death" at the foot of Little Round Top. The sun is visible through the haze and Warren's bronze statue stands in silhouette in the foreground. Bitterman said it was an "excellent" print.

Thirty-three men and women attended the dinner.

Introduce Guests
Dave Garfinkle presided and announced that he was "going and coming," retiring as acting president and assuming the office of president. He expressed his thanks to the committee in charge of the annual dinner, Joseph D. Kendlehart, chairman, Paul G. Pensinger, secretary-treasurer of the society, and Edward Stine, vice president.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Bitterman, Harrisburg; Miss Violet R. Seabold, president of the Harrisburg Camera Club; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Goughnour, York; Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Roy and a new member, "on probation" (a society classification prior to a member's formal induction) Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bottger. Mr. Paul A. Kinsey, Reading, founder and honorary member of the local club, and Mrs. Kinsey, and Mrs. John W. Salt, all of Reading, arrived late, due to the inclement weather.

Uncle Sam May Not Like This

The land which the Recreation Association recently gave use of to the Gettysburg Riding Club for five years was not theirs to give, but was a part of the federal government's land. This was disclosed at the Recreation board meeting Friday evening, and was confirmed this morning by Borough Engineer Leroy H. Winebrenner.

The land is a seven-acre plot, located in Cumberland Township, just outside the borough line. "I discovered it about a week ago," Winebrenner said, "while searching the title. The land apparently has belonged to the government all along. But not even the government knew about it."

The Riding Club had hoped to construct temporary quarters on the land for its horse shows, and had worked out a leasing arrangement with the Recreation board. The area was believed to be a part of the Recreation Field, but had never been used for that purpose.

Winebrenner, who is also president of the riding club, said that he did not know what his group will do. The possibility of asking the government for permission to use the land has been mentioned.

The assignments were made today by the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America.

EXPLAINS WORK AND HISTORY OF WAR COLLEGE

Colonel W. P. Yarborough, member of the faculty at the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, related the history of the school and told of its current work at a meeting of the Gettysburg Chapter, DAR, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Kenneth P. Hull, Howard Ave. Sgt. Harold H. MacIsaac, also from the barracks, assisted the officer with the showing of colored slides.

"When an army officer is graduated from Carlisle Barracks," Colonel Yarborough said, "his formal education in warfare is just about complete. Most of the men who are assigned to study there have had at least 13 years service in the army. Their average age is 41 and most of them have been in the service about 15 years. About half of them are graduates of West Point and nearly all are college men.

"The men at Carlisle," he said, "represent all types of assignments in the service. Each officer is an expert in his own right. The army officers studying there have already spent time at basic schools studying fundamentals of the service. They have gone on to higher schools where they have worked with divisions, corps and regiments. After they come to Carlisle they learn the science of warfare.

Courses In 3 Sections
"Courses at the barracks are divided into three sections. First the men are instructed in national and international affairs. They understand the impact of military planning and that army plans mustn't wreck the economy of the country. The Soviet Union is dissected from every angle," explained the colonel.

"The second thing learned is that the army is the biggest business in the world. The third division is based on the study of war planning and strategy. This is the atomic age and sometimes sweeping changes must be made in tactics. We must plan our course to meet atomic progress."

Outlining the history of Carlisle Barracks, the officer said "the school dates back to 1757 when the fortification was established by the British. It was the French and Indian War which brought about the construction of the barracks," he said.

"The British moved out in 1765," he explained, "only small boys and the elements were left to take care of the post. In 1776, with the advent of the Revolutionary War, the camp was reopened, General Washington (Continued On Page 4)

To Introduce Bill On River Program

HARRISBURG (AP)—An administration bill will be introduced in the House Monday to implement Pennsylvania's part in a two-state program for development of Delaware River water resources.

Gov. George M. Leader announced plans for the bill following a 24-hour conference with New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner on proposed construction of a large dam and a general plan for development of the river's resources.

The administration bill to be introduced in the House—where the Democrats hold a majority—will be a companion measure to New Jersey legislation authorizing the construction of a dam at Wallpack Bend, above Delaware Water Gap, Leader said.

Pennsylvania must pass similar legislation by July 1, the deadline set by New Jersey in 1953 to await Pennsylvania action.

MRS. VINSON IS BACK IN SOCIETY

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Fred Vinson, widow of the chief justice, is getting about again socially after a year of mourning. The popular and witty Roberta and her late husband loved the Washington party-go-round and rarely failed to make an affair to which they were invited — and of course they were invited everywhere.

Mrs. Vinson once told me her husband deplored the protocol that required that the chief justice had to leave a party before others could take their departure.

"He always had such a good time," she said, "He just hated to go home."

Mrs. Clarence Mackay, former Metropolitan opera singer Anna Case, had eyes bugging with her fabulous "jools" at Washington parties during a recent visit. At one she wore a huge egg-shaped emerald surrounded with diamonds on a long diamond necklace. She told friends her husband had given it to her years ago, that it is believed to be the biggest emerald in the world and that it once belonged to an empress.

At another party the singer wore a topaz, almost as big as the emerald, on a gold chain.

Television Helps Builders Of Dam

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (AP)—Out at the Grand Coulee Dam they are bringing in some strange pictures on a TV set. It's part of a scheme to give engineers a better idea of maintenance and construction needs of dams, bridges, piers and other under-water structures.

Harold Maiken, veteran diver, rigged up the underwater set to show the engineers what he saw. Still pictures have been made before, but Maiken thinks his show was the first of its kind. He got out of bed after being hospitalized with the "bends" a disability stemming from under water pressure) to make his first demonstration.

He used a regular TV camera in a water-tight case and two ordinary photoflood bulbs in big reflectors fixed on each side of the camera.

The engineers saw where concrete had been eaten away by the rushing water, cavities along the bottom of the dam and a dozen other things. One of them explained that still pictures and oral reports of the divers were not easy to interpret. "We just don't get the feel of it."

weather permitting. The group agreed to decide to place posts and string cables along the ball diamonds, to prevent cars from running over them and damaging the turf. It was voted to buy a power mower to replace a worn-out one which belongs to the association.

The board voted to drop plans for driver education classes during the summer, due to a reduced budget and other difficulties. A request for the scheduling of a ballgame with the Hanover Girls Softball Team was rejected on the grounds that no suitable girls' team exists in Gettysburg.

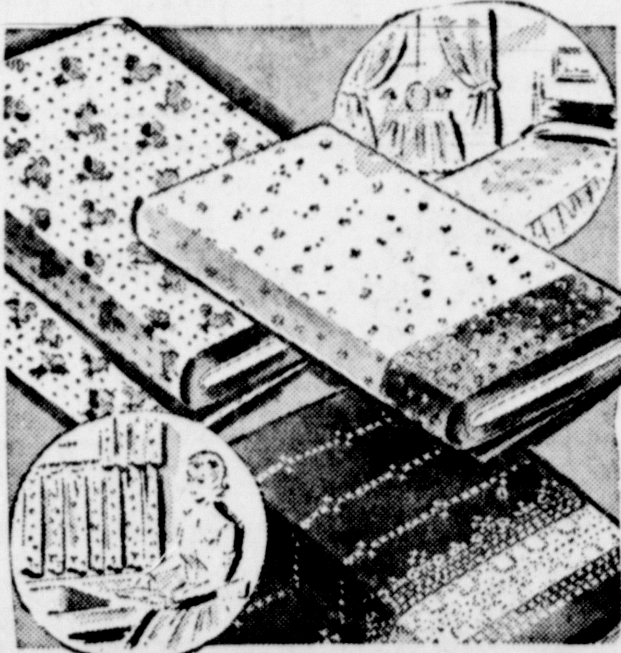

Give Right Of Way

Robert Harner, manager of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority, was a guest at the board meeting. He requested, and received, a right-of-way to build a sewer line for 600 feet across Recreation property, from the end of West St. to Long Lane. Mr. Harner stated that the only restriction this would put on the board would be that it would not be able to construct a building within 20 feet of the line. However, the line would not interfere with the ball diamonds.

Members present, in addition to President Lefever, were Secretary Mahlon P. Hartzell Sr., Mrs. Donald Wickerham, E. Donald Scott and Donald Peters.

"The American Red Cross
close to my heart"

In war it brings comfort to the injured, companionship to the lonely, sympathy to the anguished. In peace it brings food for the hungry, shelter for the homeless, help for those in distress. Although it is proudly chartered by your government, the American Red Cross is a private, volunteer organization with nearly 2,000,000 volunteer workers. Because of them, because of you, the American Red Cross serves the nation well—yet it costs your government nothing. The American Red Cross is people helping people, and that is why I am so proud to be its honorary chairman.

Today we need the Red Cross in so many ways—for disaster relief, for its blood program, for service to the men and women in our Armed Forces.

I earnestly hope each of you will once again answer the call and join your Red Cross.

REVERENCE FOR LIFE
Not until I came across the idea in one of the books by Albert Schweitzer did I get the significance of what he called "reverence for life." When Dr. Schweitzer visited the United States at Aspen, Colorado, where he made one of his notable appearances, he was interviewed by a reporter. He even missed most of his dinner that the young man might carry away with him a "great thought."

After explaining his expression, Dr. Schweitzer looked into the face of the reporter and said: "Please do think over what I have offered, and then think of this: Reverence for life means all life. I am a life; so perhaps you can put it into practice now." This simple statement was spoken by a humble man, intensely interested in serving his fellowman, regardless of race, color, religion or historic background.

How important for all of us to have this reverence for life—all life—whether it be human or animal life. Indeed of all life, whether of flower or the green grass upon which we tread. It took the Infinite Mind to create, and place about the earth, all these things of magic and wonder.

I have noted that naturalists as a rule are very devout men. I can understand this, for they give their lives to the studying and discovering of rare things of beauty and wonder. Fabre devoted his lifetime to insects. And no one has ever written so devotedly about a subject as he did. He takes you with his books into a world of everlasting wonder.

All of us have much for which to be thankful. We live in a maze of blessings. Every morning and night of our lives we should utter a silent prayer of thanksgiving to the Father of us all, thanking him for life, and the opportunity to live and serve. If you have, within heart, this reverence for life, you will be very careful as to what you say and do to others.

Just Folks

RETURN
They pack their grips and haste away
By ship or train or plane,
But happier they'll be some day
When they turn home again.

More beautiful than temples old,
They've traveled far to see,
The church to which they've often strolled,
To them will seem to be.

That simple altar memories grace
Of living and the dead,
Tis there the christenings took place
And wedding vows were said.

'Tis true that there is much to see
On many a distant shore,
But oh! it's comforting to be
At home with friends once more.

TEXAS TOWN'S TEACHERS HAVE "WALKED OUT"

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—About half the school teachers in this boom suburban town have walked out in a fuss with the School Board—and some of the students seem pretty happy about it.

"Quit acting like adults," a student leader admonished his fellows yesterday.

Substitute teachers, mamas, papas, and big brothers have jumped in to keep buses rolling and classes going since the Monday walkout. Students who have stayed in school during the five days of the walkout said operations were normal and smooth. Students who stayed away said things were not normal and far from smooth.

The controversy reached the walkout stage when the School Board fired Supt. John L. Beard. Teachers said this climaxed "intolerable situations." Some said it involved state politics, last summer's governor's campaign when some teachers threw several precincts to the support of unsuccessful Ralph Yarborough.

They were out, they added, until the intolerable conditions were changed. Now School Board President Charles E. Young says "all signs are optimistic and everything points to an early solution of our problems."

Young could be optimistic, some on both sides say.

The School Board said Dr. Beard, 58, was fired because he would not cooperate. It said teachers who stayed away from school were "out" just like nine principals and executives, fired for "instigating the walkout." The teachers could come back, the board added, if they individually returned and asked for reinstatement. Beard, whose contract had two years to run, has appealed his case to the state education commissioner.

But the students... "Things are getting along fine, just fine," said Frances Spinson, 17, a high school junior, who has not missed a class. She said she liked very much the two new teachers hired to replace two who walked out. Some students disagreed.

"I'm not learning anything," said Vera Anderson, 12, a seventh grader. "So I stayed away from school today. Those mothers who took over the class rooms aren't attempting to teach anything. The lunchroom is closed and I paid 30 cents for one sandwich and a glass of milk in a temporary lunchroom. They've got policemen up there and they won't hardly let you leave the room."

Mikoyan Likes Blue, Purple Undies

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan attended the Leipzig Fair in East Germany this week, and an interesting report came from the area: Mikoyan was enthusiastic over the delicate colors in lingerie displays.

He should be, for there are few colors less inspiring than the narrow range of colors in Russian underwear. Early in the 1920s the commissars nationalized step-ins, or panties, and the Soviets have gotten no further than the old fashioned cotton bloomer, elastic at the top and bottom, and coming inevitably in only two colors, blue and purple.

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Z. Shuford, 73, died in Carlisle Hospital last night of burns suffered when her clothing caught fire last Saturday.

Mrs. Shuford was polishing a coal stove when bristles of the brush she was using caught fire and ignited her clothing. She suffered third degree burns of the entire body, arms and legs.

PUT EMPHASIS ON TANK USES

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Army, putting new emphasis on the tank as an atomic age weapon, announced today it is bringing another armored division back into service.

The World War II-famed 3rd Armored Division, based at Ft. Knox, Ky., is being converted from a skeleton training unit into a full strength combat organization. At full strength, an armored division has about 14,500 men and almost 350 tanks.

When accomplished, this will bring the total of U. S. armored divisions to four—the 1st and 4th, based at Ft. Hood, Tex.; the 2nd in Germany; the 3rd at Ft. Knox. The 3rd will continue its training mission until June 30, then begin building its permanent organization. The division is expected to be at top strength in September, the Army said.

ington visited there a number of times and for awhile the camp was called "Washingtonburg."

First Artillery School

"The first artillery school in the United States was opened at Carlisle in 1778," said Colonel Yarborough. "Another interesting fact is that the first wrought-iron cannon was made by a colonel who was in charge of the barracks around this time."

"Carlisle Barracks has figured in every American war in one way or another," he said. "In 1812 it was a recruiting station. Later on officers and men were sent from there to fight in the Mexican War."

In 1861 an unarmed detachment was sent to Harpers Ferry where it met defeat. The rebel, General Jeb Stuart, tried to take Carlisle during the Civil War but was ordered to Gettysburg in 1863 when things became tense in that area. He burned most of Carlisle first.

"In 1872, only a few officers were left," said Colonel Yarborough. "The town asked the army to return because the people liked having the men there as they brought good business to Carlisle. About 50 years ago Gen. R. H. Pratt turned the barracks into a successful school for Indians. In World War I it was used as a hospital when the Indians were transferred to other schools. In 1930 it was Field Hospital number 31. The medics turned it into a beautiful spot by planting trees, flowers and landscaping it. And the Army War College moved in 1951" he concluded.

Extensive Service

Colonel Yarborough was introduced by Mrs. Walter C. Langsam who briefly described his career which has taken him from the Philippines to Africa, Sicily, Austria and England. A veteran of World War II, he was assigned to the Joint American Military Advisory Group which worked with NATO before returning to Carlisle. Mrs. Chester N. Gitt, regent, presided.

Mrs. Harold Reuning introduced Miss Lois Kadel, Gettysburg College organist, and Mrs. J. Robert Menchey, Hanover, who played a duet Mozart's "Symphony in G. Minor."

Miss Elsie Eisenhart, chaplain of the DAR, read a tribute in memory of the late Mrs. Lulu K. Colliflower, of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Fred G. Troxell thanked all who contributed clothing for the DAR-sponsored Kate Duncan Smith School last month. She was assisted in gathering and mailing the articles by Mrs. Guile W. Lefever.

Mrs. Robert A. Willis, chairman of the auditing committee, announced that the books have been audited and have been approved. Her committee included Mrs. W. C. Sheely and Mrs. John A. Hauser.

Mrs. George H. Thrush Jr. read letters of appreciation from the Gettysburg Girl Scout Troop led by Mrs. Melvin Fiedler, from Bendersville Girl Scout Troop 31 and from Gettysburg Brownie Troop 32 each of which has been presented with an American flag by the local DAR.

Mrs. Thrush read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Earl Diehl for the insignia from the DAR to place on her aunt's grave. The latter, Miss Kate Gilbert, a former chapter member, died some time ago. Mrs. Thrush thanked the chapter for a similar insignia given to her for her sister, Mrs. Colliflower.

Mrs. L. S. Long announced that there are 17 members of the Children of the American Revolution, Marsh Creek Chapter. The group met twice this season, it was announced.

A social hour followed the business session. White carnations and green candles on the tea table carried out a St. Patrick's Day motif.

SENATORS LOOK INTO REPORTED STOCK KILLINGS

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators disclosed today they are looking into about 20 instances in which big stock market killings may have been made through the spreading of "tips and rumors."

This word came from Chairman Banking Committee following testimony yesterday that tips given by Walter Winchell on his television show have caused sharp market fluctuations.

The witness, President Edward T. McCormick of the American Stock Exchange, said those who followed a tip from Winchell and bought shares of Amurex Oil in 1953 lost more than two million dollars in less than an hour and a half.

Swamped After Tips

McCormick also told the committee, which is studying the bull market on stock exchanges, that speculators swamped his exchange with orders for stock in Pantepec Oil Co., a Venezuelan firm, following another Winchell tip two months ago. Again, he said, the tip-followers wound up losing money and would have lost much more if the exchange had not acted quickly to hold the price down.

Winchell, a newspaper columnist and radio and TV commentator, said in New York no one has challenged the accuracy of his report on the company, and that some of the country's more responsible newspapers have confirmed it.

Winchell said he himself has never had any direct or indirect interest in stocks and added in a statement:

"A sound rule is investigate before you invest. Don't buy anything you aren't prepared to hold for 20 years. That's why I buy U.S. government bonds exclusively."

Checking Some Angles
Fulbright told reporters the committee hopes to learn whether anybody made quick money by buying Pantepec stock before Winchell's Jan. 9 telecast and selling it the next morning when the buying avalanche pushed the price up temporarily.

Asked whether he planned to call Winchell as a witness, Fulbright said "not at present."

But he said it was possible the commentator would be called if it should develop there was any connection between him and those who profited from the record sale of 357,000 shares of Pantepec stock.

McCormick testified there was unusual activity in the oil stock the week before Winchell's telecast. He said sales jumped to 170,000 shares in that week from a previous weekly average of about 20,000.

2 Counterfeiting Plants In Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prison is one of the last places you'd expect to find a counterfeiting plant, but the Secret Service has turned up two of them.

U. E. Baughman cited the cases to the House Appropriations Committee as indication of "the diabolic character of counterfeiters."

Baughman's testimony, in connection with his budget request, was made public Friday by the committee.

In a New Jersey state prison, the secret service boss said, six counterfeit $1 plates were found in the electric shop. An inmate serving a long sentence for breaking and entering admitted having made them. He was not named.

Sullivan Smashes Records As Mount Trips Baltimore; Oppose Loyola For Title

Those arch rivals, Mt. St. Mary's and Loyola, will battle it out for the Mason-Dixon Conference basketball playoff title tonight at 8:45 at Loyola, Baltimore, as the result of both winning semi-final games Friday evening.

The Mountaineers, with Jack Sullivan smashing two records in scoring 44 points, were forced to overcome an early 19-7 lead to nip Baltimore University at 97-91.

Loyola drubbed Hampden-Sydney 97-74 in the other semi-final.

Baltimore got off to a dazzling 19-7 lead after 5:00 and then the Mount, sparked by Sullivan who was given a tremendous lift from Sal Angelo with crucial baskets and fine re-bounding, began to move and finally caught up at 23-23 at the end of 10 minutes.

Thrilling Finish
With only 3:23 remaining in the first half the Mountaineers got their biggest lead at 45-37, the half ending with the Blue and White in front 51-47.

Baltimore moved ahead 80-76 with seven minutes remaining. Eddie Bals and Gerber traded goals before Sullivan landed four straight points to knot the count 82-82 with 3:36 left. A goal by Bill Stanley and two by Sullivan sent the Emmetsburg clan in front for keeps and the Bees could never catch up.

Sullivan's point-total and 25 points in the first half were the records established by the scoring ace.

'WILT THE STILT' NEAR GOLA MARK

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilton Chamberlain, a seven-foot giant who played basketball with boys for fun, today had only one more chapter to write in the most incredible story of high school sports ever told hereabouts.

While 8,500 spectators rocked the Penn. Palstra, Wilt the Stilt last night led his Overbrook High teammates to another Philadelphia Public League championship. Almost everybody had to reckon Chamberlain and Overbrook the odds on favorite to wrap up the city championship, too, in their one remaining game.

Wilt scored only 33 points in leading his team to a 78-60 win over West Philadelphia High for the Public League title.

Comparatively, that was a sub-par total for the 18-year-old youngster who now needs only six points to surpass in three years the city scholastic record of 2,222 points set by La Salle's Tom Gola in four seasons.

NOT SURE ON SAXTON FIGHT

BOSTON (AP)—Whether Johnny Saxton of New York will defend his welterweight boxing championship against Ton DeMarco in Boston was a big question mark today.

Conflicting reports indicated such a fight is 1. A strong possibility, 2. Impossible, 3. A certainty.

Sam Silverman, local independent matchmaker, told the Associated Press yesterday he was working on the fight but that television was posing a problem. He said no date had been set but that Saxton had been offered a $50,000 guarantee.

No. 1 challenger Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N. Y., is claiming priority in a title shot at Saxton. Rumors indicate if Saxton meets DeMarco first the contract will call for the winner to meet Basilio within 30 days.

The International Boxing Club, not part of the Boston promotion, has a radio-television date for Syracuse April 1 and is striving for a Saxton-Basilio match there.

DODGERS AND GIANTS WAGE WAR OF WORDS

Proving that distance is no barrier when old bosom buddies feel like exchanging a few pleasantries, the Dodgers and Giants have hooked up in a transcontinental lovers' quarrel to enliven the spring training air.

Giant Manager Leo Durocher, as you might expect, touched off the spat. After all, it's spring training for him too.

"Brooklyn's in trouble if (Jackie) Robinson, (Pee Wee) Reese or (Roy) Campanella doesn't play," Leo cooed from the world champion's training site in Phoenix, Ariz.

Dodgers Irked
Irked, Dodger Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi and Presco Thompson—with a surprising assist from silent Walt Alston—hurled a cross-country love note back into Leo's ear from their Vero Beach, Fla., camp.

Summed up, their sentiments read something like this: "The Giant bench is lousy, one of the loudest in baseball. Dusty Rhodes is all they got. We can go blindfolded among our second-string outfielders and pick better ones than they have."

Duke Snider and the Dodger bat also got into the act. Snider, peeved at comparisons between Willie Mays and himself, announced that until wondrous Willie passes him in the income tax bracket, he'll consider himself the better ballplayer.

Orthodox Noises
Noise of the more orthodox variety—ball meeting bat and ball meeting glove—echoed around other camps.

The most encouraging news came from West Palm Beach where the Kansas City Athletics enjoyed a double dose. Bobby Shantz, benched most of last year with a chronic soreness in his left arm, put his valuable flipper through a 10-minute test run and reported it felt "loose and free."

Jim Finigan, the A's fine sophomore third baseman, signed his contract to end a short-lived hold-out.

Matthews Belting 'Em
Eddie Matthews of the Milwaukee Braves belted a couple 420-foot drives and said he was hoping to get off to a fast start this year in the home run derby.

Manager Casey Stengel conceded Cleveland had a better pitching staff than this Yankees. Stengel said his main problem is to find a No. 4 starter after Whitey Ford, Bob Grim and Bob Turley.

Chuck Dressen, Washington Senator field general, toyed with the idea of shifting Eddie Yost, a veteran of 10 years, from third base to the outfield. But Paul Richards decided not to tamper with Oriole pitcher Dee Pilleste's unusual "sinkerball" motion.

Rickey Uses Cole As Buc Inspiration

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is using Dick Cole as an inspiration to other Pirates.

In another of his series of lectures, Rickey said yesterday that when he signed Cole, the infielder could not run too well, didn't throw strongly and had a "bad hitch at the plate." But, said Rickey, Cole has constantly tried to improve himself and "is one of our better players and one of the better in the league."

Last year Cole hit .270 in 138 games.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Bobby Morgan, a benchwarmer with the Brooklyn Dodgers before he was sold to the Philadelphia Phillies last summer, isn't quite sure where he'll play this year—but he'll be satisfied as long as he plays.

The pre-spring training speculation had Morgan competing with Willie Jones for the third base job. Yesterday, Manager Mayo Smith tried Morgan out at second base, where it's thought the Phillies have a prospect in Luis Ortiz. Smith says he hasn't made up his mind about who will play what position yet, and Morgan is hoping he'll play, at either second or third.

WEALTHY LADY DOCKER IS NEW MARBLE CHAMP

BY ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—Wealthy Lady Docker was as pleased as a poor kid with a new toy today.

She had a new toy, a big golden marble, set on top of a golden standard called a plinth. It was a trophy won in the mining town of Castleford Thursday night, and it established her as the "world's woman marble-playing champion."

The testful lady, who thoroughly enjoys being rich, won her championship with a flourish at a community party organized to raise money for a British Empire cancer relief fund.

Lady Docker, in great form at 44, wheeled into town in her gold-plated automobile. The rather grubby community, where she has many friends among the miners, appreciated that the accent was on gold. So Lady Docker was given a gold cushion on which to kneel while squinting at marbles she shot out of a ring with considerable skill.

Used Gold Marbles, Too
The marbles were gold, too. The Lady's beaming husband, Sir Bernard Docker, millionaire industrialist, kept up the spirit of the occasion by giving the cancer fund 1,000 pounds ($2,800).

"I play marbles because I like to, and I am going to practice and get better and better," Lady Docker said. "And it was such fun playing with such lovely people."

It was the world's first competition to determine the world's woman marbles champion, so a lot of new ground had to be broken. For one thing, Lady Docker had to figure out a costume. She chose a ballet length dress of peacock blue organza, short sleeves embroidered all over, and a bodice gleaming with blue sequins. At her throat hung a massive diamond pendant and there was an emerald bracelet on her shooting wrist. When she went into action, she glittered.

Won 7, Drew 2

Lady Docker got into the individual final by winning seven and drawing two games in the preliminaries and losing one. In the final she beat 17-year-old Pauline Phillips, a bottle filler in bottling works. Lady Docker gave the little working girl a big kiss.

Cheering boisterously were a dozen miners who had been the lady's guests on the 680-ton Docker yacht. They remembered drinking vast quantities of her champagne. She visited them later at their mine, going down with them and coming up with two lumps of coal she had mined with her manicured fingers.

VEJAR WINS ON SPLIT DECISION

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—One by one the oldtimers faded away. Sugar Ray Robinson, Kid Gavilan, Paddy DeMarco, Roland LaStarza and now Billy Graham.

None will admit he is through. It was the years—14 long ones in the ring and 125 fights—more than Chico Vejar which caused Graham's downfall in Madison Square Garden last night.

True, the 32-year-old New Yorker lost only by a split decision and the three officials had it close. But it was the way he lost it more than the tight score that will be remembered by most of the 4,804 fans who paid $15.24 for the 10-rounders.

Judges Jack Gordon, 5-4-1 and Bert Grant, 6-4 voted for Vejar. Referee Al Berli had it 5-4-1 for Graham. The AP card had Vejar ahead 6-3-1.

Gettysburg College defending titlist in the Middle Atlantic wrestling championships, got off to a flying start in the preliminary bouts of the annual meet at the University of Delaware Friday night, by sending all eight entries into the semi-finals this afternoon.

Lafayette, selected as the biggest threat to the Bullets' six straight titles, qualified seven for the semi-finals but trail the locals 7-4 in team points.

Ursinus, leading with five, Swarthmore, Haverford, Delaware and Muhlenberg also sent entries into today's semi-finals.

Coach Gene Haas' lads turned in the following performances Friday night:

123, Ken Purdy won a decision over Foreman, Haverford.

130, Bob Walmesley pinned Duckenmiller, Muhlenberg.

137, Dave Turnbull decided Head, Swarthmore.

147, "Skip" Lewis drew a bye.

FAIRFIELD HI DROPS FINAL AT DILLSBURG

Fairfield High ended its basketball season by dropping a 56-49 game to Northern Jointure of Dillsburg, Friday afternoon at Dillsburg. The Fairfield lads posted a 6-and-17 record for the 1954-5 season and finished in sixth place in the Adams County League.

Northern Jointure took a slender early lead in Friday's game and hung onto it through most of the game. Fairfield spurred into a 42-42 tie during the last quarter but the hosts then pulled ahead to stay. Gary Dolly, Fairfield guard, was high scorer with 20 points, while Eddie Spence had 18. BARONS DEFEAT INDIANS 7 TO 4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cleveland Barons, winners of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs last season, are making a determined late bid for the league title.

Of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs last season, are making a determined late bid for the league title.

With the end of the regular schedule within sight, the Barons today were in third place, only a point back of the pace setting Springfield Indians and Pittsburgh Hornets.

After defeating the Indians 7-4 last night for their fourth victory in a row.

The schedule favors the Barons. They have eight games remaining to seven for Springfield and six for Pittsburgh. Hershey, a point back of Cleveland in fourth place, and Buffalo, trailing the Barons by just two, have seven and eight games to go, respectively.

A three-goal outburst in the first period sent the Barons away flying against the Indians. Eddie Olson, the league's top scorer, and John McLeelan paced the winners with two goals each.

BLUE DEVILS OF DUKE WIN TITLE; BEAT VIRGINIA

By ED WILKE
The Associated Press

There's still a little matter of settling the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball championship tonight, but beyond that—and whatever the outcome—Duke's Blue Devils are off for their first NCAA title appearance in Madison Square Garden Tuesday.

The Blue Devils picked up the conference colors last night by outlasting Virginia 90-77 in overtime of a semifinal game in the ACC tournament at Raleigh, N.C.

Duke has to face North Carolina State, the defending champ and 5th ranked in The Associated Press poll, in the final tonight. A victory or even a defeat will send the Blue Devils against Villanova in the NCAA first round tripleheader next week. NCS is ineligible because of probationary action by the NCAA.

W. Va., G. W. College.

In other action, West Virginia and George Washington qualified for tonight's title final to decide the Southern Conference N C A A representative while Oregon State, the northern division champ, gained a leg in the best-of-three Pacific Coast playoff by beating UCLA, the southern division winner, 82-75.

And Texas Tech gained at least a tie for the Border Conference title and NCAA slot by beating New Mexico A & M 87-58. Tech could gain a clear claim to the championship tonight by defeating Texas Western, West Texas State (9-3) already has finished its season and could gain a share of the title should Tech lose.

Kentucky Can Win

The Southeastern, Missouri Valley, Big Ten and Ivy League conferences also could pin an official blue ribbon on their NCAA representatives tonight. Kentucky can take the SEC title by beating Tennessee, Penn can sweep the Ivy and avert a possible three-way tie by beating Princeton and St. Louis or Tulsa could win the Mo-Valley if the other loses.

St. Louis plays Oklahoma A&M and Tulsa meets Wichita. A tie would call for a one-game playoff with the runnerup going to the NTT.

Iowa can claim the Big Ten crown if Minnesota loses to Wisconsin. The Hawkeyes are idle until Monday, when they could win regardless by beating Michigan.

FURGOL, BARBER LEAD TOURNEY

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Two veteran professionals with differing styles today appeared the best in an unsteady field as the fourth annual $12,500 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament passed the midpoint.

Marty Furgol, 6-1 power-hitter from Lemont, Ill., and Jerry Barber, 5-5 Los Angeles precision artist, held a two-stroke lead after 36 holes each with 134.

Before today's round the 140-plus field was trimmed to 100, the 90 low pros and 10 low amateurs. The cutoff point for pros was 148 with amateurs above 149 dropped.

Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan., fired a 70 after his first round 66 for a 136 total.

Two strokes back of McGuire are Art Wall of Pocomo Manor, Pa., and Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif.

SANTEE TO GO AGAINST CLOCK

NEW YORK (AP)—Cowboy Wes Santee will try to succeed where some of the greatest runners in history have failed in the Knights of Columbus Games tonight when he races the mile against the clock in Madison Square Garden.

Down through the years they've all had pacemakers—Nurmi, Cunningham and right down to Gunnar Nielsen who holds the current indoor mile record of 4:03.6. It's tough to break a record running out front all by yourself.

The best mechanical rabbit of the age—the fellow who forced both Santee and Nielsen to their records—will be in the meet, but the directors, apparently fearful of the mounting wave of criticism on the question of pacemakers, have him in the 1,000 yard run.

He is Dick Olsen of Northeastern University, a fair miler in his own right.

Others in the mile are Joe La Pierre of Fort Lee, Va., Lowell Zellers of Indiana and Lew Olive of Army.

Referees—Wagman and Barnes.

Snyder, Ferren End Home Careers Against Juniata; Coach Bream's Semi-Final

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand tonight when the Gettysburg College cagers end their home season by entertaining Juniata. The Bullets bring their campaign to a close at F. and M. next Tuesday evening.

Tonight has been proclaimed "Bill Snyder Night" by Dr. Walter O. Langsam, college president, and the Bullet senior, who has smashed all Gettysburg scoring records, will be honored during the intermission. The game will also mark the final home appearance of Eddie Ferren, the only other senior on the squad.

28-Year Mentor
History will be written with the game inasmuch as it will be the last home game for a Bullet team under the guidance of Coach Henry T. Bream who is stepping down at the conclusion of the season after 28 years as mentor of Gettysburg court teams. Beginning next year, Bob Davies, of the Rochester Royals professional team, will take over the coaching job.

For one of the few times this season the Bullets will almost be able to match their opponents in height. Juniata, coached by Dr. T. Arnold Greene, a Huntington dentist, has Walt Vanderbusch, a junior letterman, at 6-6 but none of the remainder of the squad goes over 6-3, several being 6-2 or less.

The Indians will undoubtedly furnish the Bullets with stiff opposition. Among their victims this season are Ursinus, F. and M., Dickinson, Bucknell, Shippensburg, Lycoming, Grove City and Lock Haven.

Starters will probably include Charley Gross, 6, and Bernie Orles, 6-1, forwards; Vanderbusch, center; Leroy Hallman and Jake Handzelek, both 6, guards. Handzelek has been the team's top point-producer.

Fresh Play At 6:45
Gettysburg's opening lineup will include Snyder, Ferren, Dick Hockenbury, Fred Alleva and Al Teti.

Johnny Yovicsin's Bullet freshmen, now 5-8, will meet Hershey Junior College in the preliminary game which will get underway at 6:45. The yearlings won a previous game at Hershey 90-64.

Car Neglect Often Leads To Damage That Cannot Easily Be Erased; Care Preserves Value

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

The end of the rainbow has finally turned up on the 1953 automobile.

Car Damage To Beware

Motorists who indulge in neglect on the theory that they can always have things repaired or the car repainted should be reminded that there are some forms of damage which cannot easily be erased. These are the ones that stand out conspicuously when the car is about to be traded in or is up for sale.

Typical are scratched windshields. This can be avoided by making sure that the glass isn't dirty when the wipers are turned on and by keeping the windshield washer in operating condition. A scratched windshield can sometimes be improved by careful rubbing with jeweler's rouge applied to absorbent cotton, but usually the entire windshield has to be replaced. Another type of damage that just stays with the car is rusted chrome trim. There is no excuse for not preventing this with frequent applications of wax.

Scratches on the instrument panel, holes in the floor carpeting and stains or burns on the door upholstery (which can't be covered with seat covers) are among some of the choice bits of damage which help to push the best of cars down the hill of rapid depreciation.

For Future Reference

In adjusting the car's service brakes it sometimes happens that there will be trouble with the shoes. That is, they will not be free enough to clear their drums even after the adjustment is made for what should be sufficient clearance. This may be a sign that the shoes are not free, and that they may bind a little against the backing plate. Tapping this plate should free the shoes if this is the trouble.

Beginning Of Balloons

In some recent discussions of tubeless tires I have been reading statements to the effect that balloon tires came into the picture in the early 30's. The truth is, however, that they were introduced in the early 20's — 1922 to be exact. They were true doughnuts, very wide and operating at pressures around 12 pounds. I remember driving a Reo equipped with these tires and marveling at its ability to go over curbs as if they were no more than an ordinary bump. Rough roads were no obstacle at all, especially as the car was equipped with those famous Watson Stabilizers. These extremely low pressure tires developed numerous weaknesses, including instability, shimmy, drag and hard steering. It would be interesting to see how they would behave with all the modern aids such as power steering, improved rubber, wheel balancing and the sort of engine power that was considered fantastic three decades ago.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"One of the simplest yet effective rules for car care is to avoid abruptness in handling the car. People bring on a lot of trouble for themselves merely by being too rough.

"Over a period of years I have noticed that the people who take it easy with their cars have less trouble. They get twice the normal life from universal joints because they are easy on the accelerator whether the car has an automatic drive or a conventional gearbox. This, plus easier braking, gives them longer tire mileage. They don't break window glass because they close the car doors as they would a door in their home."

Risk In Over-Tightening

With so many engines sporting overhead valves it is not strange that there are complaints of oil leaking from the valve covers. These parts are up top where they are seen and where they may be a temptation to over-tighten. What this does is to buckle the covers so that they do not fit properly, regardless of the condition of their gasket. Oil leaks begin and may be quite troublesome.

Toward Better Braking

To me one of the most significant improvements in cars of late is raising the brake master cylinder to a location where it can be seen and thus kept in mind. That previous location way down under the floorboards is one reason so many drivers were caught without sufficient fluid in the brakes.

When hydraulics first came into the picture there was a separate brake fluid reservoir mounted on the engine side of the dash. Occasionally it was necessary to unscrew the handle and pump more fluid into the system. The advantages of this, but without the disadvantages, can be had now with the addition of one of the little glass reservoirs which many automobile dealers are installing on customer's cars. But the finest arrangement to date is the combination master cylinder, reservoir, power booster unit and stoplight switch which are combined into one accessible unit on the engine side of the dash, with the brake pedal suspended from a shaft under the dash. Here everything is right where a mechanic can get at it. Also the equipment is protected from possible damage from stones tossed off the road.

Trends In A Clash

Tubeless tires have, for the time being at least, put a crimp in that trend back to wire wheels. These new tires can be used with wire wheels but only if the points where spokes enter the rim are sealed up, because rims must hold against leakage. Simulated wire wheels, those covers which replace the usual metal disc, have no effect on the tire situation, and continue interesting those who like to give the car a little sportier look.

AMBASSADOR BENEATH MASK — Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, U. S. Ambassador to Italy, attends Foreign Press Club masked ball in Rome's historic Mattei Palace.

Ever since the flywheel of a school bus exploded many readers have asked me if this sort of thing is a general risk in motoring. The answer is an emphatic "no." Flywheels are designed to hold intact at speeds well beyond the point the engine could possibly reach. This is known as the factor of safety. Moreover car flywheels are much lighter than in the earlier days because with more cylinders and more impulses on the crankshaft there is less need for a heavy flywheel to keep the shaft moving between impulses.

Another worry that should be put away in moth balls is the possibility of an upset should the propeller shaft drop to the road if a front universal joint broke. The car is so heavy the shaft would bend or break off if it caught in the road. In discussing the appearance of engine oil recently I pointed out that color is no longer an indication of its condition, assuming you are using detergent oils which pick up organic matter and hold it in suspension until an oil change. Delving into the subject further we should consider an exception to the rule. If the oil darkens very much and quite rapidly it means that the engine needs the cleaning which it is getting and that it would be well to drain off the oil even if it has been in use only several hundred miles.

What's Your Trouble

Q. There's a grinding sound which seems to be in the rear of my car. It can't be a tire because there's no change when driving over different kinds of road surfaces. K. T. H.
A. From here it sounds like a bad rear wheel bearing.
Q. Does undercoating make it more difficult to grease the rear springs? N. K. J.
A. The springs are not treated with undercoating. Anyhow, rear springs these days are encased and do not require lubrication.
Q. There is an occasional miss in the engine of my car, especially when the car is being driven hard as in passing other cars or climbing a hill. I notice it especially when kicking down on the accelerator to the passing gear. Checking the breaker points hasn't helped. N. G. B.

A. The engine could benefit by a new set of spark plugs.

Q. My car has been steering in an odd fashion. I can describe it best as a sensation of slight instability. Other members of the family do not notice it at all, and think that I am imagining this. However, they drive the car only around town while I am the one who uses the car on the open road. Wm. L. S.

A. My guess is that you are noticing the effect of snow tires on steering. It is very slight and many drivers do not notice it even on the road. It varies, too, for different patterns of tread.

Q. What causes a splashing sound in the car when I accelerate the engine. I have never heard anything like this before. J. M. McB.

A. Probably you are hearing air in the car's hot water heater. This will work itself out.

Q. For some time the engine of my car has developed the odd condition of coughing when heated up, the action being similar to what often happens with a cold motor. Any ideas? H. J.

A. Yes, quite a few. First I would check over the valve tappet clearances. When the engine is well heated up there may be insufficient clearance for one or two of the intake valves. Check the spark plugs. As this engine loads up with carbon and you try to drive the car hard the present plugs may not be the right heat type. Check also for a cracked intake manifold. Naturally when the manifold heats any crack will open up and lean out the mixture.

Q. There has developed an odd skipping in the motor of my car. Perhaps it will help you if I also mention that there may be some overheating involved in this because I seem to have to add water to the radiator daily. G. E. R.

Police Officer Defies Threats To 2 Hostages; Slays Wyoming Killer

GREEN RIVER, Wyo. (AP)—An officer defied threats to a hostage mother and two children to end a killer's 16-hour crime spree with a charge from a sawed-off shotgun last night.

W. G. Sherman, special agent for the Union Pacific Railroad, fired through a window of the embattled home to kill ex-convict Melvin Henry Gray, 27.

Gray, who earlier killed one man, wounded three others and kidnapped a 17-year-old youth, took refuge in the home of Mrs. Gus Kalivas after a running gunfight through this town of 3,187. It climaxed one of the most intensive manhunts in Wyoming history.

Tricked By Officers
While the desperado menaced Mrs. Kalivas and two children, one of a score of officers encircling the house called and distracted his attention. Sherman seized the opportunity to sneak unseen to a front window and fire.

The blast caught the killer in the chest. He stumbled into an adjoining bedroom and officers found him dead seconds later.

One of Gray's pursuers, Deputy Sheriff Ed Phillips of nearby Rock Springs, was in critical condition at a hospital there. A bullet fired by Gray in a chase through Green River's railroad yards hit Phillips in the chest.

Marshall Wounded
Frank Kulinski, Kemmerer town marshal, was wounded seriously after Gray disarmed him and two companions in the pre-dawn hours at Frontier, Wyo., 87 miles northwest of here. In that same fight, Albert Maffei, 35, Kemmerer garage owner, was killed, and Don Wagner, 35, also of Kemmerer, was wounded slightly.

A young Evanston, Wyo., service station attendant held hostage in his car more than eight hours, Robert Durrant, was not harmed. The day-long manhunt began when Kulinski and his companions gave chase to Gray's car as they saw it leaving the scene of a reported burglary.

Taken By Surprise
They spotted the car at Frontier, three miles north of Kemmerer, but were taken by surprise when the gunman stepped from hiding.

He commanded them to drive north a short distance, stopped the car and ordered the trio to dismount. Then, without warning, Gray shot Kulinski in the stomach. Next he fired at Wagner, the bullet grazing his cheek. Maffei was struck by three bullets as he fled, and fell dead.

Kulinski staggered three miles into town to report the shootings, and other officers took up the chase. Gray abandoned his getaway car, circled around his pursuers and seized young Durrant at Evanston, 39 miles south of Kemmerer.

They drove without incident southeast to Manila, Utah, where Gray bought a suit of clothes. Finding southbound roads there blocked by snow, they returned to Green River and Gray abandoned the car and his hostage.

Had Record
He ordered Durrant to "drive west and don't stop." The youth drove 22 miles to Little America, where officers found him.

The search then converged on Green River. Pete Thalass, a railroad worker, spotted the killer in the U.P. yards apparently planning to board a departing train.

Phillips and other officers then entered the running gun battle, which ended minutes later at the home where Gray was killed.

Officers said Gray, whose parents live in Beasley, S.C., served 18 months in the Wyoming Penitentiary on a forgery charge and was released in November, 1951.

Hits, Robs Cripple And Steals Crutches

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police today held a man who they said struck a 54-year-old cripple over the head with a hammer, robbed him of $30 and then stole his crutches to pawn them.

Hobart Dorsey, bleeding from head wounds, crawled two blocks from his apartment to a restaurant for help. He was reported in poor condition at General Hospital.

Police charged Harold Brining, 46, with robbery and first-degree assault.

MOSCOW (AP)—Catholic members of Moscow's foreign colony jammed the tiny apartment chapel of the Rev. George Bissonnette Friday to attend a special service for the American priest who has been ordered to leave the country.

DEMAND LOW FOR EUROPEAN TITLES IN U.S.

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP)—The American market for European titles seems to be slow these days.

Take the case of Lina von Lamezan, who has offered to sell the title of baroness.

She ran a series of notices, the first one nine days ago, in the personal column of a newspaper.

There has been no sale thus far. But she has received an armload of letters, a copy of a religious poem, a bouquet and a song dedicated to her and entitled "The Baroness Waltz."

"Some Look Good"
Mrs. Von Lamezan, a childless widow, is 81 and lives in a time-weathered, stove-heated cottage on Chicago's northwest side.

She told a newspaper yesterday that most of the letter writers were people who had some interest but only modest means.

"Some look good," she said. "I'll have to write to them."

Mrs. Von Lamezan explains that she does not have a simple sale in mind. In return for an unspecified sum of money, she says, she will adopt a suitable person who wants to share the title now and inherit it after her death.

She also says she came by the title through marriage in 1926 in Chicago to Baron Franz von Lamezan, who died about five years ago at his family's home in Freiburg, Germany.

Gave University 11 Millions; Needs More

HOUSTON (AP)—Oilman Hugh Roy Cullen said Thursday he already had given the University of Houston 11 million dollars plus oil leases and royalties.

He said he had "succeeded in giving away 93 per cent of my worldly goods" and that the university needed more money for operating expenses. Exaggerations about his gifts, he said, created a false impression that the school was fixed financially forever.

SALESMAN IS KIDNAPPED

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—An automobile salesman carrying a $5,400 auto agency payroll was kidnapped by three men late Thursday. He was released after the robbers took the money while holding a pistol at his back.

Police Chief Robert Waterson of Lower Merion township said the victim, George Courtney, 53, of Levittown, Pa., had gone to a bank in Langhorne to pick up the payroll for the company's 36 employees.

State Approves School Annexation

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Council of Education has approved the annexation of a part of the Greene Twp. School District by the Chambersburg School District.

Dr. Carl Seifert, deputy superintendent of public instruction and council secretary, said there was no opposition to the proposal.

The council put off until its May 6 meeting further consideration of an application by Portland and East Bangor boroughs and Mt. Bethel and Washington Twp., Northampton County, to form a joint school district.

Seifert said a council hearing brought out a "lot of differences of opinion" and referred the matter back to the Northampton County board of school directors for a "factual report and recommendations."

IS OPPOSED TO "ULTIMATUM" TO RED CHINA

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he opposes issuing any "ultimatum" to Red China demanding the release of 15 imprisoned American airmen.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said this week the United States should take action if the men are not released by April 1.

The airmen were captured during the Korean War, and 11 of them have since been convicted.

U.S. TAKES HAND IN THREATENED PENNSY STRIKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal intervention apparently has headed off a threatened strike of 20,000 CIO maintenance men against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Chairman Francis A. O'Neill of the National Railway mediation Board announced last night officials of the CIO Transport Workers Union had informed him by phone they were calling off the walkout, scheduled for midnight Sunday.

O'Neill said the union had accepted a mediation board offer to take a hand in working out a settlement of the dispute, which grows out of the economy layoff of 12,000 workers.

Not Available
Union officials were not available for comment on O'Neill's announcement. The Railroad previously had accepted the mediation offer.

The board chairman said Mediator Earl Newlin would be sent to Philadelphia to open peace-making efforts either today or Monday.

President Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union has charged that the layoffs have cut maintenance on the Pennsylvania Railroad below the safety point. But the railroad has denied this, stating it has lived up to its contract with the union. Wages are not at issue in this dispute.

The Pennsylvania, which operates in the East, the Midwest and the upper South, says the layoffs were dictated by a "recession in business" last year.

tion as soon as possible so that the new staff member would have time to learn her duties before Mrs. Sinn leaves. Mrs. Wilson said it would be helpful if the new employees would be able to able to operate the bookmobile.

L. S. Long, chairman of the Property Committee, told the board footers have been poured for the 40x40 garage-stackroom addition being erected at the rear of the main library building. He said parking lot improvements are progressing. The board directed a letter of appreciation to the borough council, LeRoy H. Winebrenner, John S. Teeter and the Metropolitan Edison Company for their help with the parking lot project.

Memorial Gifts

William C. Darrah reported to the board on committee conference with the county commissioners relative to an increase in the county grant for the library and C. P. Keefer reported on a Community Chest meeting he attended.

Mrs. Wilson announced a $200 cash gift to the library and the board directed that it be placed in the book fund with the books to be bought with it to be designated as memorials to Mrs. William M. Lott.

Mrs. Wilson also said the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church has given three books as a memorial to Dr. Charles H. Heldt.

President Asquith announced two standing committees for the year as follows: Property, Long, Kenneth Smoke, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Rev. Frantz and Dr. Blackburn, and finance: C. P. Keefer, Mrs. Dora Ford, Miss Anne Faber, Mr. Darrah and Thomas Pyle.

Get County Money

The report of the treasurer revealed that the library has received its budgeted $4,500 from the county commissioners. Bill totaling $892 were ordered paid.

The monthly circulation report showed total book loans in February of 17,131 and included an increase of nearly 300 loans over the same month last year at the main library. Loans through the bookmobile totaled 13,614. Of the total loans for the month 15,077 were to juveniles but nearly half of the loans from the main library were to adults. The report showed that in nine years 4,157 persons have registered as borrowers at the library.

Thirteen members attended the board meeting. The next meeting will be on Friday, April 1.

HARRISBURG (AP)—

Mines Secretary Joseph T. Kennedy today broadened a safety directive to require immediate investigations of roof fall accidents regardless of how minor they are.

Previously only fatal roof fall accidents in soft and hard coal mines throughout the state were investigated by state inspectors.

and sentenced as "spies."

George, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he does not know what effective action could be taken.

"I am not in favor of fixing any deadline date or of issuing any ultimatum in an attempt to gain release of the fliers," George said. "Ultimately, if they are not released something will have to be done by this country but I think it still is a matter for the U.N."

Dag Hammarskjöld, U. N. secretary general, is reported still working on proposals to free the Americans. However, members of Congress generally have little hope of success for U. N. efforts because Communists China has rejected invitations to discuss the matter before the international organization.

Panic-Stricken Carl Folk Dies In Arizona Gas Room

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP)—With a pair of white trunks on his bulky body and a look of panic on his face, Carl J. Folk died Friday in the state prison gas chamber.

Folk, condemned for the torture-murder of a young Pennsylvania woman, entered the chamber at 5 a.m. The door was closed at 5:03 and he was pronounced dead two minutes later.

Sobbing, Folk told Warden Frank Eymann, the last man he talked to: "Thank you for your kindness. I still think I'm not guilty."

Folk began trembling as soon as he was strapped in the death chair inside the silver-painted hexagonal chamber. He struggled briefly against the straps.

Twenty-six persons, including police officers and newsmen, watched the execution through glass panels.

23rd Person Executed
He was the 23rd person to be executed by gas here. The last execution was on July 18, 1951, when Harold Thomas Lamiz was put to death for the murder of a woman on a train in Cochise County.

When the warden pulled a lever outside the chamber, 16 pellets of cyanide, about the size of small eggs, dropped into acid.

Folk inhaled deeply several times after the steel door was closed and held his breath for perhaps 30 or 45 seconds before finally breathing in the deadly fumes.

Dines With Wife
At his last meal Thursday, Folk ate roast chicken with a few relatives and friends, including his wife, Florence.

He was with the small group until about 9 p.m. Clergymen remained with him from then until the time of the execution.

Folk, 57, former New Mexico carnival operator, was convicted of the murder of 22-year-old Mrs. Betty Faye Allen, of Wattsburg, Pa., Feb. 13, 1954. The killing occurred in a house trailer near Holbrook, Ariz., Dec. 2, 1953.

Tortured For Hours
While her husband lay bound in the trailer, Mrs. Allen was burned with newspapers and sexually molested for several hours before being strangled.

The husband, Raymond, 27, who said Folk had demanded money when he entered the trailer, finally freed himself, got his gun and shot Folk in the stomach.

R. C. DISTRIBUTES GAMMA GLOBULIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Shipment of 500,000 cc. of blood derivative gamma globulin to state and territorial public health officers was announced today by the director of the American Red Cross program.

Dr. David N. W. Grant, program director, said the shipments mark the resumption of Red Cross distribution of GG for use in combating measles, hepatitis and infantile paralysis. Approximately 1,000,000 cc. is expected to be available this year, he added.

The Red Cross first began GG distribution in 1944 as a measles immunizer. For the past two years, however, the entire Red Cross GG supply was contributed to a national pool under control of the Office of Defense Mobilization and ODM was responsible for distribution.

On January 1, ODM relinquished the control and returned to the American Red Cross the balance remaining of its contribution to the pool.

The York Springs Ambulance Committee has announced that it has secured the former Hanover ambulance. As soon as enough money is raised to complete the purchase and buy insurance, it will be put into use. However, the committee said that it must have $1,400 before the ambulance can be put into service.

The ambulance will be displayed Tuesday, March 8, in front of Hershey's 5 and 10c store in York Springs at 1 p.m. Donations and memberships will be received at Hershey's store, Stough's Service Station and Coulson's Garage.

The membership dues for the first year will be $3. It will entitle all members and their immediate family living in the same house to one year of free ambulance service within a radius of 25 miles.

The committee is composed of members of the Lions Club and the Fire Company.

ASK SEC FOR OK ON INVESTMENT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has been asked to give its approval to a plan by the Potomac Edison Co. to invest $1,085,000 in three of its subsidiaries.

The three are: South Penn Power Co., of Waynesboro, Pa.; Northern Virginia Power Co., Winchester, Va.; Potomac Light and Power Co., of Martinsburg, W. Va.

The SEC issued an order giving interested persons until March 24 to request a hearing. The plan calls for Potomac to acquire 2,000 additional shares of common stock of Northern Virginia for $200,000, 4,000 shares of common of Potomac Light for $400,000 and 97,000 common of South Penn for $485,000. The additional stock would be issued during 1955 as funds are needed for construction programs.

Half A House Falls Into Excavation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Half a house collapsed and tumbled into an excavation Friday, leaving the rest of the two-story brick building standing relatively undisturbed. No one was injured.

The freak splitting of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wanger left the surviving half appearing as if it had been sliced evenly by a huge knife.

The wrecked part fell into a 10-foot deep excavation being readied for construction of an addition to a nearby building.

The collapse occurred during a thunderstorm. Other occupants of the home, all abed at the time, were Mrs. Wanger's parents.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chinese Communists have been accused by a U. S. official of plotting to de-bauch the free world by pushing sales of narcotics for money to buy arms.

Sound Effects In Voting Machine

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The electrical voting machine in the Indiana House provided sound effects last night when the House passed a bee inspection bill.

As the roll call vote was being tabulated a spring broke in the machinery, causing a loud buzzing noise that held up the count a few minutes.

Land Safely After Losing Motor Parts

CHICAGO (AP) — The pilot of a shuttle service plane landed safely at O'Hare Field yesterday after losing a cylinder and part of the cowling of one engine in flight.

The 10 passengers and two crewmen escaped injury.

The pilot of the two-engine Lockheed Electra, George Herbert, 35, said he made a "normal one-engine landing" and that his only trouble was in getting taxicabs for the passengers afterwards.

En route from Chicago's Midway Airport to an airport at suburban Park Ridge, the plane blew the cylinder over the city's heavily populated Northwest Side. The cylinder and the cowling piece crashed through the roof of an auto agency, but no one was hurt.

Second Fire Breaks Out On India Wharf

BOSTON (AP) — A new blaze broke out on fire-scarred India Wharf because of a stiff wind from the sea Thursday, but four engine companies and 60 fire fighters quickly extinguished it.

The second fire followed by about 18 hours the spectacular blaze which destroyed several two-story business establishments and ate away much of the wharf deck and pilings at a loss estimated at $100,000.

The original blaze was under control when the wind fanned the embers into flames.

About an hour after the second fire was put out, a 100 by 50-foot section of the outer end of the wharf dropped into the water. Some 30 fire fighters fled from the collapsing wharf uninjured.

The arson squad continued its investigation today to determine cause of the blaze.

$4,052,721 Paid Out By State In Week

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Labor and Industry Department reported Friday that payments for unemployment compensation insurance totaled $4,052,721 for the week ending Feb. 25.

At the same time the department noted a 14 per cent drop in new claims for the week. They totaled 24,260 compared with 28,131 for the previous week.

The department credited the drop to fewer layoffs in the construction, primary metals, stone, clay and glass, fabricated metal, trade and electrical machinery industries.

Continued claims dropped about 7 per cent to 204,921 for the week. During a comparable week a year ago new claims were 35,000 and continued claims 228,200.
